

International Stock Show

READY FOR THE "INTERNATIONAL"

A gigantic stage has been effectively set at Chicago for what is popularly known as the annual "Fat Stock Show." It is the Twentieth Anniversary of the International Live Stock Exposition, embracing every known breed of draft horses, beef cattle, hogs, and sheep, together with a display of fat bullocks, swine, lambs and sheep without precedent as to quality.

At this display in the International Amphitheater at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, the first week of December, a wealth of stock rendered priceless by depletion in Europe during the war will be assembled for visualization, presenting an opportunity for the economist, the student and the public, possible nowhere else and at no other time. The event marks the culmination of the two decades of progress during which American breeders have drawn on the best herds and flocks of Europe in carrying out the purpose of the "International" to uplift the live stock industry.

From every section of the United States pedigree live stock, fat bullocks, portly porkers and prime muttons are headed toward Chicago for the annual contest to determine merit in the superlative degree.

AN INTERESTING ITEM

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Chicago will be the battleground this year for the annual struggle between the best corn producers of the entire country to determine who will be crowned corn King of the United States. The struggle will be staged at the International Hay and Grain Show, which will be held in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition at the Union Stock Yards, November 29th to December 6th. This is the first grain show since 1914 on account of the war.

Already the entry list is large, with the very best corn growers in the country competing for the $10,000 in prizes offered by the Chicago Board of Trade.

In addition to the corn which will be on display from the various states, fourteen agricultural colleges will have exhibits of an educational nature.

One of the special features will be a miniature farm. This will be a complete layout of a farm, showing the number of cattle, hogs, sheep, horses, chickens, etc., that an average corn-belt farm can profitably carry.

At this particular time when feed is high in price, it is very necessary in profitable feeding to study carefully food combinations that will give the greatest gains at the lowest cost and with the highest profits. This exhibit is certain to prove both interesting and instructive to the largest number of stockmen who will be in attendance. Model live stock farms will be shown in miniature and model barns and feed racks of various descriptions will be exhibited.

The Department of Agriculture is preparing very attractive exhibits pertaining to feeding and management of live stock, one of the features of which will be "A Flock of Sheep on Every Farm."

That will make this a real educational center.

That will be a lasting evidence of our progressiveness.

That will expand our business and bring money to our midst.

That will give our children the advantage of other like cities

That will be—

THE INTERNATIONAL HAY

There will be little ears of corn, medium sized ears of corn and big ears of corn exhibited at the International Grain and Hay Show to be held November 29, December 6 in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago.

A giant ear of corn has been entered by one of the corn belt states and has been termed "The International Ear." This ear of corn is 37 inches long, 30 inches circumference, has 82 rows with 225 kernels to the row, making a total of 18,450 kernels on the ear. This will be, no doubt, the largest ear of corn ever exhibited and one that is so unusual that it will attract the attention of every visitor.

The exhibitors are insisting that the management shall place this ear in a glass case for the reason that many might insist on securing grains that they may attempt to reproduce this large ear.

Throughout the entire country farmers are examining their corn and their grains, selecting the best that can be found and are grooming and preparing them for the great International show. Everyone interested in seeing these products should arrange to attend the Exposition November 29-December 6

GOVERNMENT AND COLLEGE EXHIBITS

Again a leading feature of the International Live Stock Exposition, during the first week in December, will be an exhibit to portray the results of feeding experiments as conducted by several agricultural experiment stations during recent years. This exposition has been of great educational value to the stockmen of America concerning profitable types and breeds of live stock. This year exhibits will be staged that ascertain to prove of great educational value along lines of profitable feeding and management. The exact amount of feed required to make one pound of beef, pork or mutton in different experiments will be shown, and a concise statement of the results will be presented in the form of cards or charts.

At this particular time when feed is high in price, it is very necessary in profitable feeding to study carefully food combinations that will give the greatest gains at the lowest cost and with the highest profits. This exhibit is certain to prove both interesting and instructive to the largest number of stockmen who will be in attendance. MOBILE, ALABAMA.

The early explorers did well when they founded the French colonies, which were begun under the brothers de Bienville and d'Iberville.

Mobile lies at the mouth of the Mobile River, which is formed by the junction of the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers. Many products of the interior come down those rivers, cotton and lumber in large quantities is seen, and coal from further north.

Mobile harbor affords accommodation at her wharfs for both commercial and tourist traffic. The city of Mobile is some thirty miles from the Gulf of Mexico and it is a delightful sail up the broad winding entrance to this city, Mobile, which has a population of 75,000 souls.

From the water's edge there is a gradual rise of the land which leads to attractive hills and ravines, upon which are located beautiful southern homes—old and new, and the shell roads are a boon to the automobilist.

There are few cities in the world which possess so many beautiful streets that might be termed boulevards. Some of them resemble small portions of Paris, France, or Brussels, Belgium—as it was before the present devastation from the European War.

These streets in Mobile are lined with some Monarchs of a century of Nature's production—the grand old elms and water oaks, and not a few are embellished by the hoary gray hanging moss that sways with the passing breezes. Government street is the most imposing and branching from it are many attractive park-like streets made beautiful through the care of up-to-date civic cooperation.

There can scarcely be found a drive more beautiful by Nature's own painting than along Mobile Bay, by sunset in the summer time, or at Autumn it is one never to be forgotten.

Mobile is a city of education, culture and perhaps interesting conservatism, yet it is a city of true hospitality, with a touch of what remains of the old regime of French, English and Spanish.

It is a city that has been "under five flags," and many of its people bear the distinctive features of their ancestors, in its many fine looking and even beautiful women and courteous "old school" men.

Mobile is fast becoming an all-year-round resort, with fine Hotels, and all centering around its historic and beautiful Bienville Square.

Mobile is often called "The Mother of Mystics," because she was the first to originate the "Mardi Gras."

One finds outdoor recreation in and around Mobile, in abundance. Small steamers ply between her suburban health resorts—beautiful Fairhope, Battle Wharf, Point Clear, Magnolia Springs and other attractive spots which are made more beautiful by Nature's hand, and where health giving ozone is freely given from the Gulf of Mexico.

In addition, Mobile has excellent golf links, a fine Country Club, plenty of good fishing, and automobiling over roads that cannot be surpassed.

Old Mobile is unlike any other city on the Gulf. She has her own attractions, as well as those of her surroundings. A few weeks stay there and mingling with her people cannot be but well spent. She is also a city of Clubs and genuine hospitality. A Tourist Welcome Club, among others, heartily welcomes all visitors to this city of de Bienville and d'Iberville. —Carlyle Porter.

Council Of Defense.

If every man named as an officer in the war-time Council of Defense would put his shoulder to the wheel and help make the local council a permanent peace organization it would be a great institution to build up co-operation in church, school, business and agricultural pursuits, which we think is the foundation for a more progressive county, better citizens and more comfortable living.

Some teacher in a rural school will get a prize of $25 and others smaller prizes if the box supper contest is put on with some spirit. It will be worth while to watch the progress. In indications are that the first three weeks in December will show the spirit of friendly rivalry and the friends of the various young lady teachers will come forward with support, making the contest a close one. While some teachers will think it is too much trouble. We believe more than half of them will put on suppers, many some will do about Thanksgiving. It would be wonderful to see the improvement in every walk of life in this county if all the people interested in progress would unite and by cooperation, all move in one direction, with one purpose in view and that purpose to do the things that would help the greatest number of people. If we were all willing to make some personal sacrifice for the benefit of the community at large one of our hardest problems would be solved.

There has been bonified sales of stock in the Corbin Hospital Co. sold aggregating about seven five thousand dollars. This assures enough money to complete this excellent Institution, as many sections of the county that will benefit by it has not been canvassed. There is enough people along the Rail Road in this section will take stock when they see it is a go, to make the desired amount.

The Ministry And The League Of Nations.

The National Committee on the Churches and the Moral Aims of the War made a postal inquiry reaching over 17,000 ministers, covering thirty representative cities. The replies showed that 17,000 ministers were for the League of Nations and that 805 opposed the League or were in favor of drastic changes.

ROAD BUILDING

During the past ten days this county has seen a record broken in the way of putting metal on roads. With the crusher furnished by the State and the new trucks we can have hard surface roads in this county. Thomas O'Mara hauled 50 truck loads of ballast from the crusher on Dr. Lovell's farm to the grade on town hill. This demonstrates that road building is speeding up. This year has been a year of great advance in road work and we have promise of continuance of the good work next year on a larger scale.

Road building is a progressive move that so changes conditions that it necessarily will come slow. The great expenditure of money is not the only obstacle. Public sentiment is not yet cemented on general uplifts. We think more than half of our citizens are still like warm about roads because the project don't bring a pike on their farm, but this conclusion will evidently be outlived and our people will realize that a road one mile in their direction is worth while to them and is a start that will eventually bring a good road by their door when their time comes. Hard surface roads will spring all over the county at a much more rapid rate.

MEETING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The series of meeting at the Christian church closed on Tuesday night. The meeting was a success from every standpoint. Rev. Lucy presented the big principles of constructive Christianity in an able and convincing way. Each message was characterized by a fine spirit of Christian fellowship. Members of other communions were regular in their attendance and loyal in their support of the meeting. One great asset of the services was the special music at each service.

There were thirty-five confessions and sixteen who brought their membership from other congregation and placed it with the congregations here, making a total of fifty-one. The confessions were all made by boys and girls in their teens. Some of these will place their membership with other congregations, as the matter of church membership was left to the choice of each one who came. The decision was to give the services to Christian life and service was the very best feature of the meeting.

Rev. E. C. Lucy is the pastor of a strong congregation at Versailles. But he finds time to hold several meetings throughout the year. These meetings have been very successful. The people of Mt. Vernon, from all communions represented, have express a fine appreciation of him and of his work. Many homes have been touched and many lives helped by this meeting. His good work done here should bear fruit for many years.

Living downward.—Next Thursday is Thanksgiving and we guess lots of people are figuring on a nice time with turkey and celery, oysters and the like. Well naturally we now pass through the best part of the year for there is Thanksgiving. Hog killing; This is a great time for the porker and a great deal to the enjoyment of man with spare ribs and the like. Then comes Christmas when everybody feels good, or at least should.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith which has been quite sick for some time is better.—The series of meetings conducted by Rev. Baker, of Garrison, assisted by Rev. Bowing, of Brodhead, is nearing its close, but has been a great meeting. Up to the present there have been nine additions to the church and good crowds attending. Much good has been accomplished. Bro. Baker is a good talker and can explain the Scriptures so you can easily understand his sermons.—Mr. and Mrs. John Cockrell visited relatives in Paris Sunday.—Mrs. George Smith has returned from a few days visit in Corbin.

Miss Davis is visiting Miss Elizabeth Clark, of Danville, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Miss Tompkins, who has been doing substitute work at Langdon school during Miss Turner's absence, left this week for Ganoado, Arizona, where she will have a matron's position in Kidwood Memorial School. Miss Turner is expected to return to her work December first.

The Concert to be given by Mr. Mitchell, of Hurlan, assisted by Misses Aultman and Davis will be held at Langdon School Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. Tickets on sale after December first. Mr. Mitchell needs no introduction to a Mt. Vernon audience.

GET SEED POTATOES NOW.

Throughout Maine and other northern potato producing States harvest is now on full blast. As the northern potato crop is below normal, both in acreage and yield, specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture recommend that the southern planters stock up immediately on seed potatoes for next spring's plantings. Such activity on the part of the southern growers not only will assure them of the necessary seed but also will enable them to secure high-producing, disease free seed selected in the field at harvest time.

FRENCH LIKE AMERICAN CANNING.

France—the land where every one is supposed to be a good cook—likes American methods of home canning.

Four home-demonstration workers were sent to France by the United States Department of Agriculture in June. They were to give demonstrations in the methods of home canning which have proved popular in the United States during the past decade. Their work in France has been attended with marked success. The first series of demonstrations were concluded early in August and the second was started.

In the first series the work, as planned by the minister of Agriculture and carried out by the Americans, was the teaching of agricultural leaders, who in turn will teach the French people. Among those who attended this first series were four directors of agricultural colleges, two chiefs, one inspector general from the ministry of agriculture, 21 professors from different agricultural colleges, four wounded French officers, the wives of some of the professors, one directrice and two teachers of higher schools—about 100 in all.

There is but one legitimate excuse for a pale, run-down, listless child, and that is some serious disease of one or more of the vital organs, which, of course, needs the prompt attention of a competent physician. Unless such condition exists, the weak, white youngster who takes no pleasure in romping or playing can be very materially helped by a course of that theously dependable blood enricher and general tonic, Gude's P. pto. Man gun. This standard remedy for Anemia (bloodlessness) has been continuously prescribed by physicians all over the world for nearly thirty years, to restore the weakened, watery blood to its normal condition, and thus improve the appetite, add color to pale lips and cheeks, and impart strength to the whole body. Gude's P. pto. Man can be had in both liquid and tablet form (no difference in its effect), the liquid of course, being preferable for young children. When buying

"Gude's" is on the package, without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Killman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot..."

I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

SMILES:

A company of people were waiting in a railroad station and fell to relating at how early an age each had chosen his vacation. A farmer had been stimulated at twelve by a plot of ground given to him to cultivate. A preacher said that at the age of seven, in church one day, he had resolved to enter the ministry. Thus several men spoke; but a sign-painter present, undated them all by remarking: "I started in my business before any of you. Why, before I could talk, I made signs."

The stout Teuton woman with the little boy, handed the conductor a $2 bill.

"Surely you have?" asked the conductor, and he shifted the silver and nickels in his pocket. She thought he meant the little boy.

"Neh!" she responded. "I have one home only three months old almighty."—Chicago News.
